

NICK DUNHAM

Director of Junior Programs, Buffalo Grove

Nick began his golf career after moving to Hilton Head Island, South Carolina, where he attended Professional Golfers Career College and earned a degree in Professional Golf Management. He later became Program Director for the First Tee chapter on Hilton Head, leading the program for six years while helping young players develop both their golf skills and core values. Nick continued teaching at GOLFTEC in Madison, Wisconsin, where he used 3D motion capture technology to analyze movement and build data-driven swing improvements. He later served as Director of Instruction at Catalyst Golf Performance in Milwaukee, where his study of mobility and biomechanics shaped his coaching philosophy: the most efficient and repeatable golf swings are built by improving how the body moves first.
